Cubette 2002 Out of Place

"I used to think that anyone doing anything weird was weird. I suddenly realized that anyone doing anything weird wasn't weird at all and that it was the people saying they were weird that were weird."

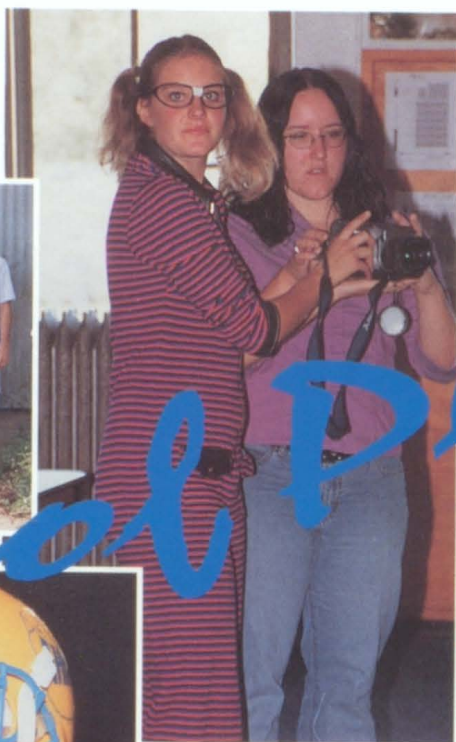

-Paul McCartney

Cancun, here we come!

Getting ready for Spring break, Jenna Hughes, Emilee Barnes, Shaunna Feekes, Amy Larsen, and Angie Fickbohm look a little out of place in this wintery scene.

Do you smell something burning?

At the coronation celebration, Kris Bakker fires up the crowd.

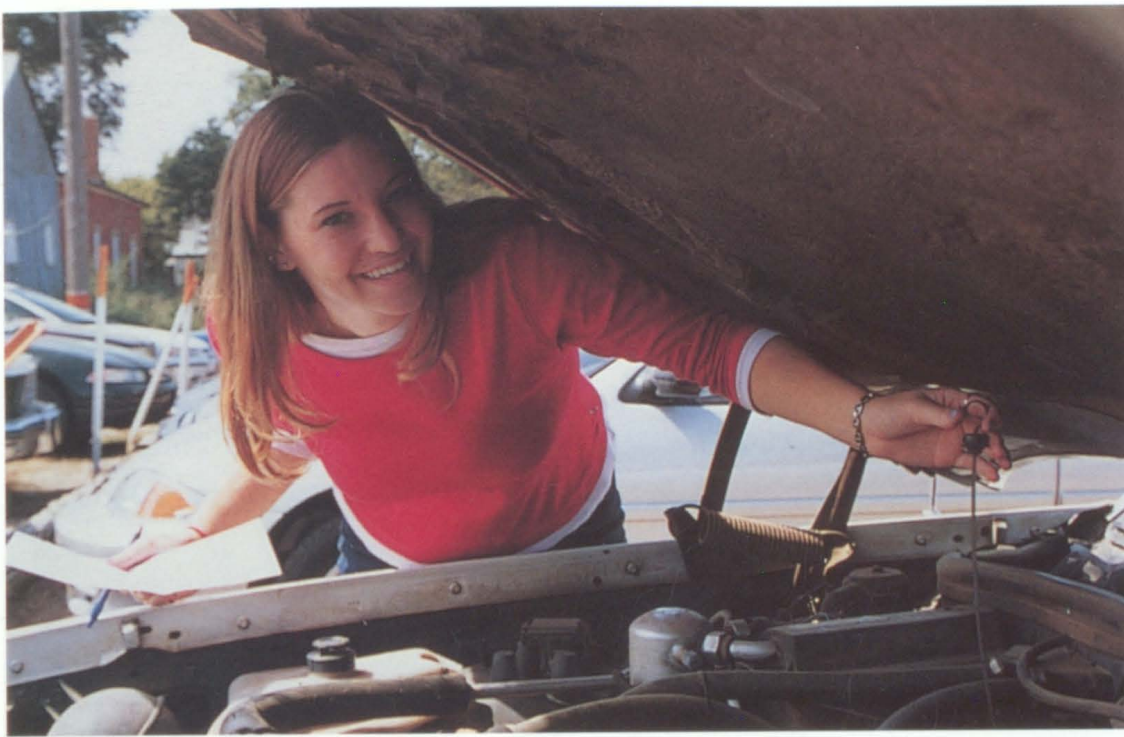

Pick me! Pick me!

Showing his enthusiasm, Chris Day raises his hand to answer Mr. Hensch's question.

Out of Place

Another year began in a small town. The students that filed into Alcester-Hudson High School felt out of place for awhile, being another year older and (maybe) another year smarter. But what would life be if some of us weren't out of place? In our school and our lives, we shouldn't strive to be the same, we should strive to be different, strive to be unique, strive to be...

OUT OF PLACE!

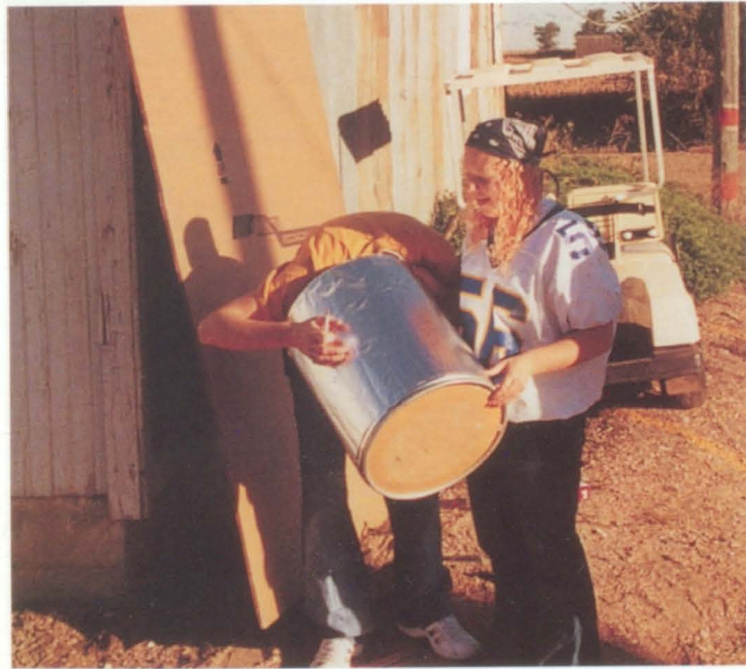

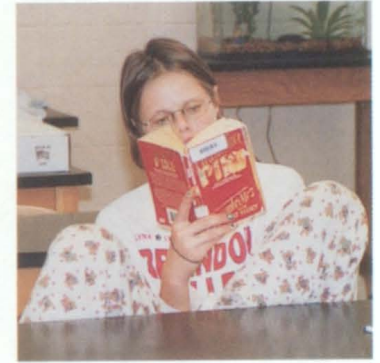

This is too easy!

Homecoming week was September 24-28th. Monday was "Get Up and Go Day" with coronation at eight o'clock. Tuesday the students showed off their good or evil sides with "Angel/Devil day", while the girls basketball team played in Canton that night. Wednesday was "Wacky Day" and Thursday was "Hat Day" as the student council hosted a barbeque at noon. The girls basketball team played Lennox, the royalty introduced between games, and the dance team performed during halftime. Friday was the traditional "Blue and Gold Spirit Day" as the students industriously worked on their floats that morning for the parade in the afternoon. After the parade, a pep rally was held at the elementary school. Later that night the football team lost 46:0 to Elk Point-Jefferson. The homecoming dance was afterward at the high school gym.

Go All Out

Fall. The leaves fell from the trees, the school year was in full swing, and students got busy working, studying, and playing. Students' weeks were packed and the weekend became a much needed 48 hour vacation. But, just what did students do to fill those two days? Some still worked, a few still studied, but most just tried to have fun. A poll was taken to find out what some people did to fill their weekends, and the results are shown in the list below. Students didn't only fill up their week with activities, but went all out on the weekends, too.

All Snowed Out

Students awoke in the morning and saw snowflakes outside their window and wondered to themselves if there would be a late start or perhaps no school at all. This was a common thought going through all the students at Alcester-Hudson.

Throughout the winter we had many activities that went on in our school. Some of them included activities such as FCCLA, FFA, and Quiz Bowl. Many students also participated in sports such as boys basketball, wrestling, or volleyball.

During the week before Christmas, the students took part in decorating trees outside of the library, as well as their advisor's classroom.

The student council judged the rooms while the rest of the student body received hot chocolate as a treat.

One of the most memorable moments this winter that Kathy Kirchner remembers was, "Seeing Mr. Webster light his hand on fire."

Out In the Sun

Due to the lack of snow, the AHHS Student Council decided to change the "I Hate Winter Week" to "Fun In the Sun Week." They started off the week with Malibu Monday, with everyone wearing anything Hawaiian. Then on Sun Safety Tuesday, the students wore anything that protected them from the sun (such as sunblock, hats, and sunglasses). Next was Water Wear Wednesday, with swim shorts, water toys, water shoes, and towels. Thursday was Thong Thursday and students wore flip-flops or sandals. We wrapped up the week with Fun In the Sun Friday with activities at the football field in which the students participated. Some of those activities included the toilet paper toss (where students tossed rolls into a neon toilet) and a hula hoop contest. The students also participated in an eating contest where they had to be the first to get a Baby Ruth covered in whipped cream in their mouth.

Bye Bye Birdie

A lot of long, strenuous practices made Bye Bye Birdie a hit throughout the Alcester and Hudson communities.

A few of students commented on the musical. Mark Smith said, "It was the best performance I have ever seen." Brian Larson commented, "I felt moved emotionally and physically." Märit Serck, who played the part of Mrs. Macafee, said, "I never had to worry about entrances; all I had to do was follow Trace around."

There were an estimated total of 3,000 hours of practicing, including the time spent blocking, choreographing, rehearsing with the pit band, and setting up and tearing down the sets and making (or searching for) costumes and props. The amazing performance could not have been possible if it wasn't for the hard work that directors Kelley Anderton, Michael Smith, Shonnie Kratochivil, and Tory Merrick put in.

Out All Night

Palm trees, leis, coconuts, and volcanoes. Sights not usually seen in Alcester or Hudson. But on May 4th, these were all anyone who entered the elementary gym could see. This year's prom theme, "Midnight Luau," and the theme song, "Wonderwall," were, as always, selected by the junior class.

The evening started out with a banquet served by the sophomore waiters and waitresses, and provided by the junior class. Waiters and waitresses were Jared Anderson, Michael Thompson, Brian Larsen, Andy Dykstra, Eamonn Walsh, Noah Yaeger, Emilee Barnes, Shannon Fickbohm, Andrea Lykken, Ashley Pearson, Becky Wood, and Kristen Vreugdenhil. Next came the annual Grand March and Mr. Joachim in his festive white tuxedo. Following the Grand March was the crowning of the King and Queen, Dave Horner and Rebekah Sailor. Other candidates were Jesse Peterson, Derek Lykken, Kyle Reppe, Keith Doty, Stacy Fickbohm, Märit Serck, Amelia Peterson, and Tena Westling.

The next few hours were spent dancing the night away with music provided by Hot 104.7. At midnight everyone loaded the buses and headed to the Golf Dome in Sioux Falls for fun and games. Before long, it was 4:00 in the morning and the buses were once again loaded and sent back to Alcester.

Out for a Good Time

On April 19, 2002, 28 seniors filed into that big yellow school bus for one last trip together. Sioux Falls, South Dakota, was their destination. Their first stop was Gigglebees where they were treated to a pizza buffet, free tokens, and a round of lazer tag. They all went to the movies at Century Theaters and out to Applebees for dinner. At night they checked into the Radisson Hotel for an evening of relaxation and lounging by the pool. After a delicious continental breakfast, they made their last stop at the Empire Mall for shopping and lunch. Even though they did not travel far or do the most exciting activities, they had fun because it was done with the classmates they grew up with.

Out of Here

On a sunny Saturday afternoon the class of 2002 gathered one last time to celebrate their graduation. In traditional style, the seniors marched down the aisle to "Pomp and Circumstance." The commencement began with a student prayer by Rachaelle Larsen. The senior choir members sang "Home." The audience was entertained by a slide show presentation and a speech by Tena Westling entitled "Together." Amy Larsen read the poem "Oh the places we will go," while Rebekah Sailor and Tena Westling showed their appreciation for parents with a poem "Never Enough." Following this, the seniors recognized their parents with white roses tipped in red. At the end of the ceremony the class was presented to the audience and the diplomas were awarded by Jerry Joachim and Lori Jurens. The chosen honor guards were Kris Bakker, Lowell Anderson, Holly Reppe, and Adam Johnson. The ushers and usherettes were Cindy Blake, Matt Boyer, Katrina Winqvist, and Trace McKellips.

FFA isn't just about tractors, farming, and cows, it's also about leadership and involvement. This year was a very successful year for FFA. Members traveled to district and state judging competitions. At these competitions, many members placed or earned honors. They also traveled to Made for Excellence and Leadership camps, along with their annual fruit fundraiser.

When asked what they liked most about FFA, many members responded they liked FFA week, especially "racing tractors on tractor day," says Jesse Peterson. Others preferred the bustle of activities at state FFA, ranging from showing sheep, judging horses and milk, to the dance. Kyle Reppe and Megan Akland enjoyed square dancing with the cowgirls and Waddy from Kadoka. Other members, like Darin Johnson, preferred the more simple aspects of being a future farmer, they just liked the cows. No matter what their favorite aspect of FFA is, all members agree it's a great organization to belong to.

Reaching Out

FCCLA

Although it started out slow, the year in FCCLA picked up and turned out to be very successful.

Amy Larsen served as the District Chair and also as the State Secretary. Rachaelle Larsen, Heather Anderson, and Kayla Heiman served on Peer Education teams for the year.

At the state meeting the chapter won the State and National Chapter Service Award, and the milk consumption contest.

Also, over half of those who participated in Illustrated Talks made it to run-offs for Nationals.

Five members made it to Nationals for their projects. They were Amy Larsen, Holly Reppe, Adam Scott, Craig Larsen, and Jessica Johannsen.

Along with the impressive showing at state, FCCLA members also held their annual fund raiser and banquet. They had family fun night and read to people of all ages.

Even with the slow beginning, the year became one of the most successful and memorable years ever.

Band Out of Rhythm

Lara Rommereim practices marching before the homecoming game.

This year the Alcester-Hudson High School concert and marching band performed for the public during many events including home games, pep rallies, the Homecoming parade, and football half-time field show. They also held both a winter and spring concert at the elementary school gymnasium. The band competed in Dakota Days where they received fourth place.

Consisting of just twenty-six members this year, the high school band often joined with the junior high school band to create a larger sound at games and pep rallies.

Even with such small numbers, the band performed very well. "I was very pleased with our performances this year," says Mike Smith, who directed the Alcester-Hudson High School Band this year for the first time.

Solo ensemble included groups of all sizes such as: solos, duets, all boys or girls competitions, and mixed competitions.

Everyone went to the large group contest in Freeman and received an Excellent rating.

Four members of the AHHS choir were selected to sing at the All-State Competition in Aberdeen. They were Andrea Lykken, Rachaelle Larsen, Kyle Witt, and Chase Anderton.

This year the Chorus also sang the National Anthem at the start of the Region Volleyball game in Alcester against Lennox, and held winter and spring choir concerts.

The 2001-2002 school year saw a lot of changes to the Oral Interpretation team. This was the first time there was enough competition between categories to hold a local meet. 17 students participated in the local meet held in early October. Of the 14 entries, seven were chosen to proceed to the Region meet. Three were chosen to represent the school at the State competition, where they each received Excellent ratings.

At the Conference meet, Keith Doty, Sarah Scott, Jason Van Engen, and Josh Clark ponder the questions.

The Alcester-Hudson Quiz Bowl team had an impressive year, placing very well among some of the best teams in the state. At the Washington High School meet, they placed fifth, only below the Sioux Falls Schools. After this remarkable showing, they were invited to compete at the Mitchell Invitational, where they placed second, coming in ahead of top dogs Mitchell, Rapid City Central, and O'Gorman.

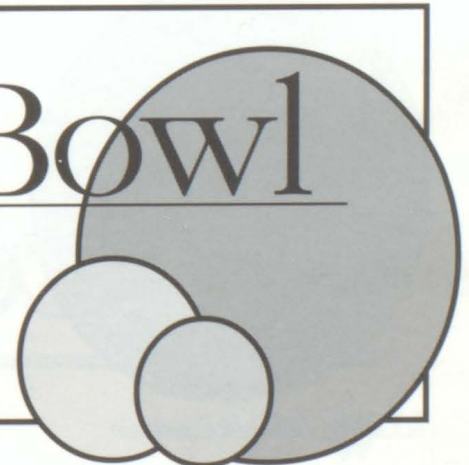

In addition to competing in large bowls, they also sent as many as three teams to other meets. AHHS I, consisting of rotating members Eamonn Walsh, Keith Doty, Jason Van Engen, Josh Clark, Sarah Scott and Kris Bakker, won the Parker and Hudson Quiz Bowls as well as placing fourth in both the Lennox Quiz Bowl and the Conference meet.

While some may think Quiz Bowl is nothing more than a showing of wits once a week, each member must write twenty questions, and answer 100 questions every week for a grueling 18 weeks.

The 2001 girls basketball season was an interesting one if nothing else. The team worked together and also worked really hard. They ended the season with a 3-17 record. The girls selected to All-Conference Honorable Mention were Stacy Fickbohm, Melissa Hofer, and Amy Larsen.

"Injuries suck!" said Melissa Hofer who was out after just 10 games due to a stress fracture. There were also other injuries including Megan Kleinhans, who had a cracked bone in her wrist, and Holly Reppe, who suffered from mono and later torn ligaments in her ankle.

Out on the Field

Layout by Amber Sigman and Adam Peterson

The Cubs football team played through a lot of injuries and showed a lot of character.

The Cubs football team had another tough season going 0-8. Coach Tim Rhead had this to say about the season: "Due to a variety of injuries, we were unable to accomplish most of the goals we set out to meet." The underclassmen gained plenty of valuable experience and are looking forward to a good season next year. They are losing seven seniors this year including Devin Chavis, Keith Doty, Derek Lykken, Kyle Reppe, Doug Noble, Mike Jansen, and Alex Braun. The experienced a gain in numbers this past year and are hoping the trend continues.

There were many key injuries this year both during and before the season. The injuries varied anywhere from a broken leg to a broken collarbone, a concussion to a broken arm, and even more. Coach Rhead is optimistic about next year saying, "With a number of returning starters, we hope to capitalize on our experience and have a chance at the end of the season to still be in playoff contention."

This year our AHHS cheerleaders did many things to pump up the crowd. During Homecoming week, the cheerleaders painted the streets downtown, the parking lot at the elementary, and the football stadium. They also painted banners for the teams to run through during the Homecoming basketball and football games and small footballs were also thrown out to the crowd. Throughout the year the cheerleaders also performed many pep rallies.

Returning letterwinners this year were Ashlee Wendt, Marinn Dubs, Kris Bakker, Dotie Schumacher, and Jessy Hazel. New letterwinners were Shannon Fickbohm, Andrea Lykken, Sarah Scott, Shaunna Feekes, Sophia Feekes, Heidi Sandbulte, Elizabeth Day, and Rachel Endelman.

A new team was introduced to Alcester-Hudson this year, their name-Dance Extreme, their mission- to entertain the school and community with the wonderful world of dance. Ten girls made it through tryouts and set out to face the unknown. Practicing around basketball, volleyball, and various other activities, these girls, along with coach Laura Friedrich, gave up their Sunday afternoons and dedicated them to dance. After hours of practice and preparation, Dance Extreme performed at boys' and girls' basketball games and also traveled to Huron to perform in the State Dance and Cheer Competition. Dance Extreme members included seniors Megan Akland, Amelia Peterson, Märit Serck, Amy Larsen, and Stacy Fickbohm, junior Julia Lennertz, and sophomores Emilee Barnes, Sophia Feekes, Emily Sanford, and Andrea Lykken.

The Alcester-Hudson boys basketball team started off the season with a bang by selling boys basketball t-shirts and participating in the University of Sioux Falls fall basketball league. They also welcomed their new head coach Travis Hensch and assistant coach Doug Edberg. The boys had a good season breaking two personal records (Mark Smith, most 3 point shots made in a game and in a season) and tied another record (Trace McKellips, 12 assists in a game). The returning lettermen were Mark Smith, Scott Neu, Nathan Beeler, Craig Doty and Trace McKellips. The new letterwinners for this year were Keith Doty, Adam Johnson, Jared Anderson, Doug Noble, and Kyle Paulson. The boys ended the season with an 8-12 record. Scott Neu was named to the Big Sioux 2nd team for the second year in a row while Trace McKellips, Nathan Beeler, and Craig Doty received honorable mentions for their efforts. Trace also received the Team MVP award and Team Defensive MVP awards while Kyle Paulson received the Most Improved Award and Adam Johnson the Sportsmanship Award.

Out on the Mat

Seventh grader Nathan Sigman achieved what no other seventh grader in AHHS history has.

Layout by Marinn Dubs and Amber Sigman

The varsity wrestling season was successful for individuals. The wrestling team invited newcomers Nathan Sigman (103) and Mike Jansen (145). This year, as a seventh grader, Nathan Sigman went to State "B" Wrestling Tournament in Sioux Falls and placed fifth. He started his first year on varsity with the best individual record on the team, 35-1. Nathan also tied with Lowell Anderson for the most takedowns, 49. Other season records were set by Brian Larson for the most pins with 13 and Zack DeBruin for the most reversals with 13.

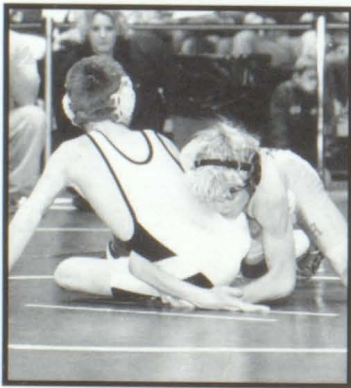

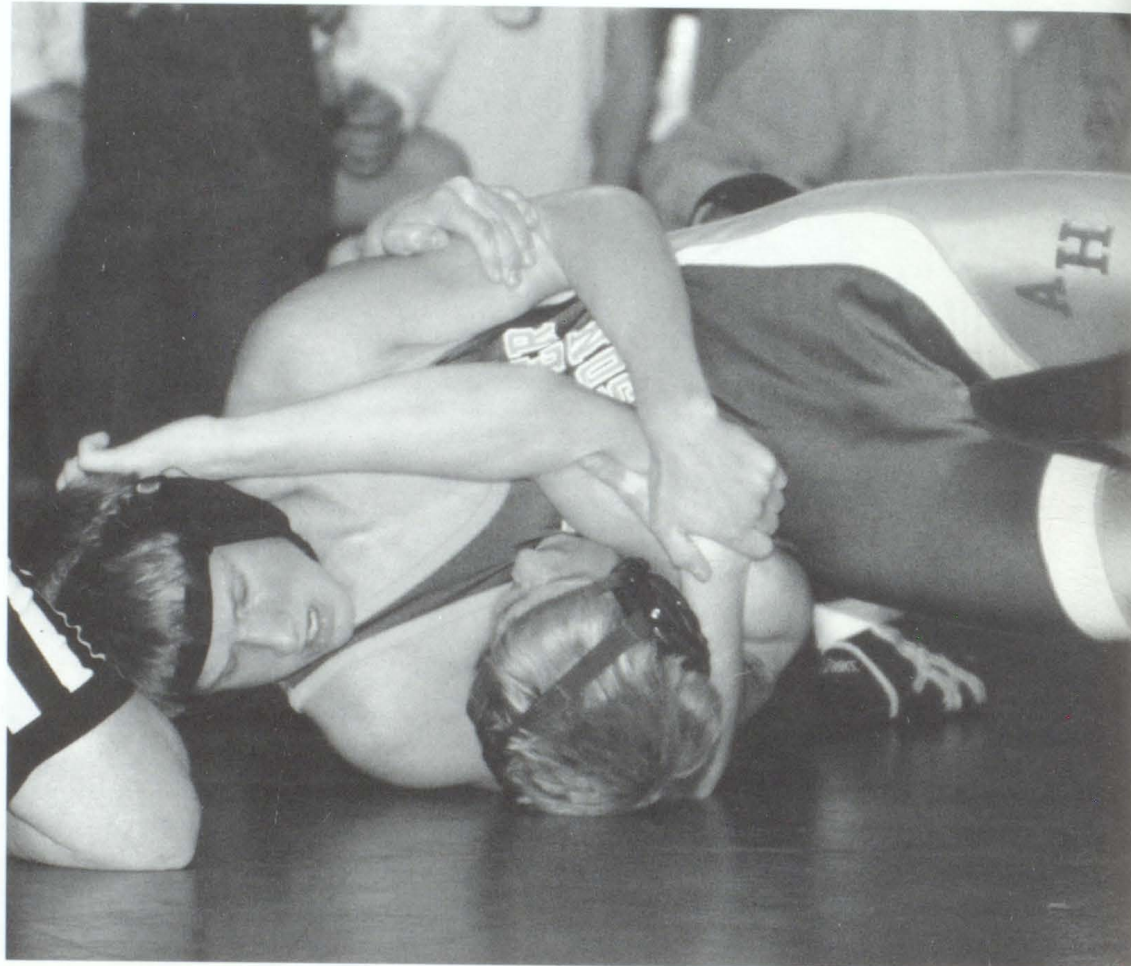

The seniors this year were Mike Jansen and Derek Lykken, who was also the team captain. Rounding out the team were sophomore Jordan Davelaar and freshmen Joe Kezar and Chad Gray.

Roll 'em over, lay 'em flat.

Using the head lock, Chad Gray pins his opponent.

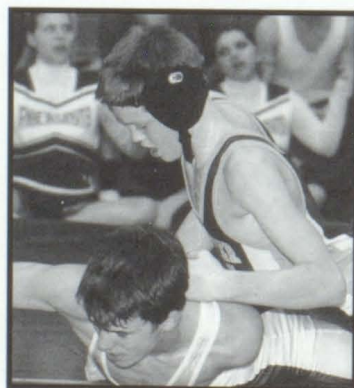

Mop, mop, mop all day long.

Working hard, Märit Serck prepares the mat for competition.

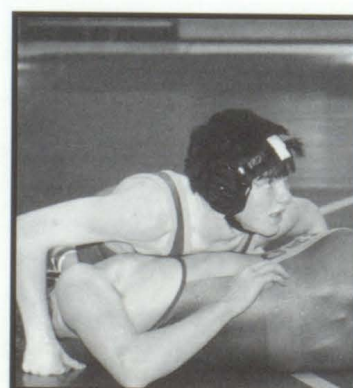

Hold on!

Nathan Sigman holds on tight while his opponent attempts a switch.

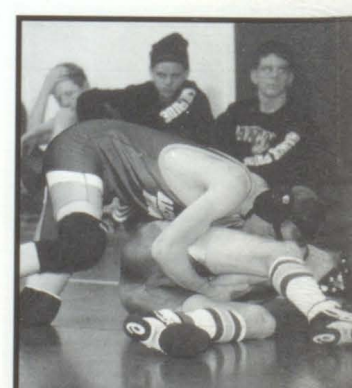

Come on, turn with me.

Getting prepared, Zack DeBruin gets ready to roll his opponent onto his back.

What did you say?

Looking up confused, Brian Larson questions the referee.

What's that smell?

As he rides his opponent, Lowell Anderson sets up a cradle.

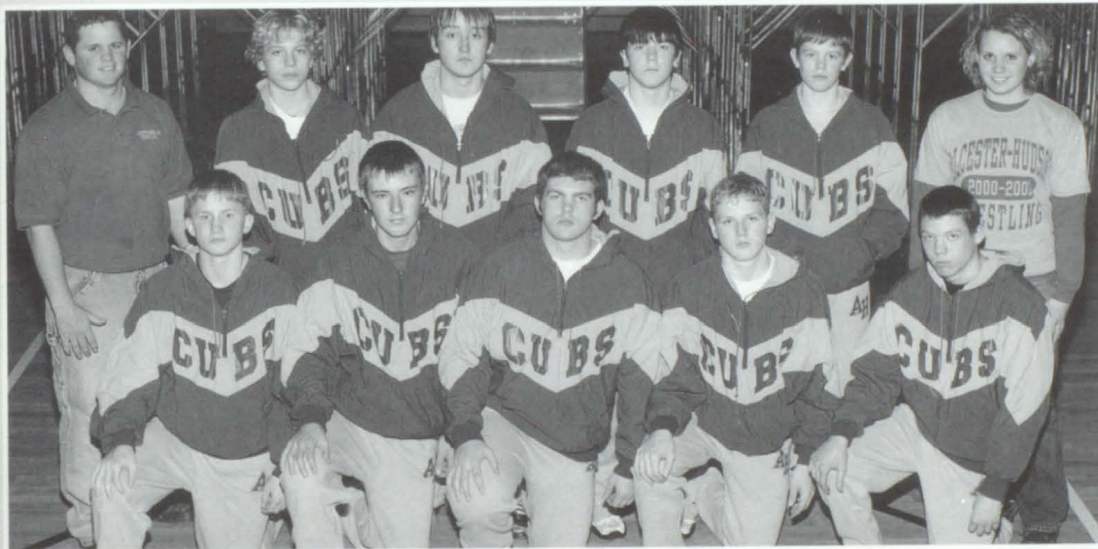

What's going on?

Lost, head coach Phil Serck wonders where his team went.

What do you want?

After an exhausting match, Zack DeBruin and Joe Kezar enjoy their time relaxing.

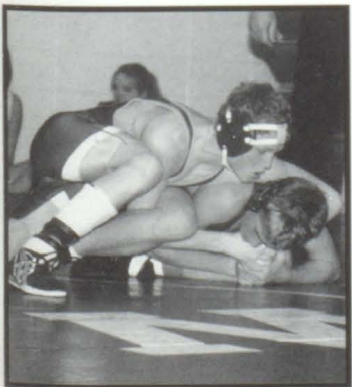

“ I am ‘awesomer’ than Märít, so therefore I am the ‘awesomest’ and you shall all love me. ”
~Coach Serck

Side-Out

With a 35-8 record, the Lady Cubs had a triumphant year.

Layout by Megan Akland and Holly Reppe

"It's fun." That's what Coach Hoeffner had to say about volleyball. Many of the girls on the team would have to agree. This year the volleyball team not only had a lot of fun, but they also had a lot of success. On March 5th the team traveled to Watertown to make their third appearance at the state tournament. After losing their first game against Sioux Falls Christian, they came through the loser's bracket defeating the number one seed Miller. In that bracket was also Sioux Falls Christian and now it was payback. For the last two years it was Sioux Falls who stopped the Cubs from advancing in the state tournament. This year was a different story. During one of the most memorable games of the year, the Cubs came out on top and went on to claim third place in state. But it wasn't an easy road to Watertown. The Cubs had to take on many difficult teams to get there. They beat Elk Point-Jefferson in a long and strenuous district tournament, and had to get through Lennox for the region title.

Up against a Hurley opponent, Robin Lykken goes for the block while being covered by Amy Larsen.

Jumping for joy.

Leaping to great heights, Amelia Peterson spikes the ball.

Middle hitter Robin Lykken reaches for the block in the SFC game.

So if I can just kick her when I go up for the block...

I hope my hair doesn't fall out.

Outside hitter Megan Akland prepares to pass the ball at the game against Miller.

How'd I get down here?

Outside hitter Amelia Peterson sits on the court wondering how she got in this position.

Huddle up.

During a time out, Coach Hoeffner gives the team a few encouraging words.

Seniors say good-bye.

Out to Run

Layout by Amelia Peterson and Holly Reppe

On any given cold, windy, rainy, blustery day in spring, the track team was probably enjoying the weather outside somewhere on a track. But running through wind, rain, cold, and even hail proved to be no match for these tracksters. As Mrs. Haisch would say, "If it's not cold and windy, it's not track!"

At the Beresford Lions track meet, Adam Johnson qualified for state in the 100 meter dash with a time of 11.28, then bettered that time at the Big Sioux Conference meet with a time of 10.99. That time also broke the standing school record in the 100 meter dash previously held by Brian Larsen at 11.03. Also at the Big Sioux Conference meet, the girls' 4 x 800 meter relay team, consisting of Amy Larsen, Jenny Wood, Melissa Hofer, and Emilee Barnes, took first. Along with that, the boys' medley relay team with runners Craig Doty, Jared Anderson, Adam Johnson, and Trace McKellips beat out their competition and took first place. In an exciting race at the Region meet in Vermillion, the girls' 4 x 800 meter relay team qualified for State. Good Luck to those qualifiers.

Out on the Green

For the second consecutive year, two of Alcester-Hudson's golfers qualified for the state tournament.

Layout by Amber Sigman and Adam Peterson

Whether freezing cold or sweltering heat, rain or shine, the Alcester-Hudson golf team was always out and about. Dedicated golfers didn't care about the weather when it came to golfing. The varsity golfers opened their season at Elk Point in a tournament with about 20 other teams. AHHS also hosted four golf meets this season against EPJ, Beresford, West Sioux, and Dakota Valley. They also traveled to many other meets including Hartford, Parker, Dakota Valley, EPJ, Akron, and Harrisburg.

This year's letter winners were Krista Ericson (5th year), Amber Sigman (3rd year), Scott Neu (3rd year), Shawn Lykken (2nd year), Mark Smith (2nd year), Mike Thompson (3rd year), Andy Dykstra (2nd year), Seth Mielke (1st year), and Adam Peterson (1st year). At the Region golf tournament, Scott Neu and Amber Sigman both qualified for state, held in Rapid City, for their second consecutive year. Good Luck to both of them.

Out of Time

Another year ended in a small town. As the students filed out of Alcester-Hudson High School, some for the last time, they no longer felt out of place. Many found, in their search to be unique, that we're all different in some ways. Each person brought something special to our school. And while our time in school may be up for the year, we have plenty more chances to be unique and we'll never completely run... OUT OF TIME!

Working on the prom spread,
Megan Akland gets help from Kris Bakker, while Adam Peterson looks on.

Working hard?

Dedicating their time to the *Bear
Facts*, Cassie Persing and Sarah
McMinn edit an article.

What if we...

Looking confused, Ashlee Wendt and Holly Driesen discuss the placement

Amelia Peterson's explanation of a pica.

Laying Out

Ah, here we are.

Looking for a layout sleeve, Amelia Peterson searches through the How-to-make-a-Yearbook kit.

Producing the yearbook and monthly newspaper would not have been possible if it wasn't for the hard work from the 14 Journalism staff members. Junior and Senior yearbook editors Kris Bakker and Märit Serck helped lead the class in orchestrating the enormous task of producing the school annual.

Journalism class was expanded this year with the newly resurrected monthly Bear Facts newspaper, edited by Adam Peterson and Cassie Persing.

Along with the duties of publishing the yearbook and newspaper were the tasks of making the sports programs, ordering candy, and keeping the vending machine fully stocked.

Never-ending spread checking.

Editors Kris Bakker and Märit Serck make last minute changes to a spread.

Q. What do you like best about Journalism?

"Listening to people moan and groan about their stories not being placed in the Bear Facts."

Adam Peterson

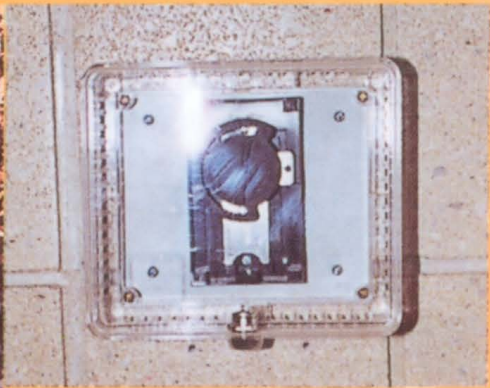

"I love checking yearbook spreads over, and over, and over, and over, again."

Kris Bakker

"Having lots of time to work on your stuff."

Holly Reppe
