Foreword

August 25, 1967... registration day for the 186 students of A.H.S. This step marked the beginning of what seemed a long road towards the students' hopes and goals of the year. The completion of the new addition and the new football field, a very successful basketball season, and a good year for the music department were a few goals reached. For the forty-seven seniors, it was a long climb filled with many steps, the steps of success and recognition. But most important for the entire student body, it was a year of progress.

So now, we, the staff, leave you to relive the many memories of the year through this annual...the 1968 Cubette.

Steps of Progress

Progress is a word that can apply to many different areas. It means to move ahead and make improvements. Alcester High School has made progress in the field of education and opportunity for the students. The new addition has improved facilities for learning and made the students of Alcester High School quite proud to be a part of it.

Although the addition is finished and in use, many steps were involved that started three years ago. A building survey was conducted in 1964 by the University of South Dakota and they made recommendations for the size, according to the needs that were evident. A bond election was held to vote on the sum of $97,000. Many students helped campaign for the passing of the bond. The bond was passed with a majority and then plans progressed from there. The construction began in the fall of 1966 and was completed for use of the 1967-68 school year.

NEW MUSIC ROOM--A convenience enjoyed by the grades.

New Facilities Are Useful

The addition included complete new kitchen facilities, a music room with an office and two practice rooms, a class room, and a science laboratory room with two offices.

The students of Alcester have many opportunities to be proud of. We have taken another step forward, a progressive step into the future.

The cooks, Mrs. Numsen and Mrs. Harders work in the new convenient and spacious kitchen.

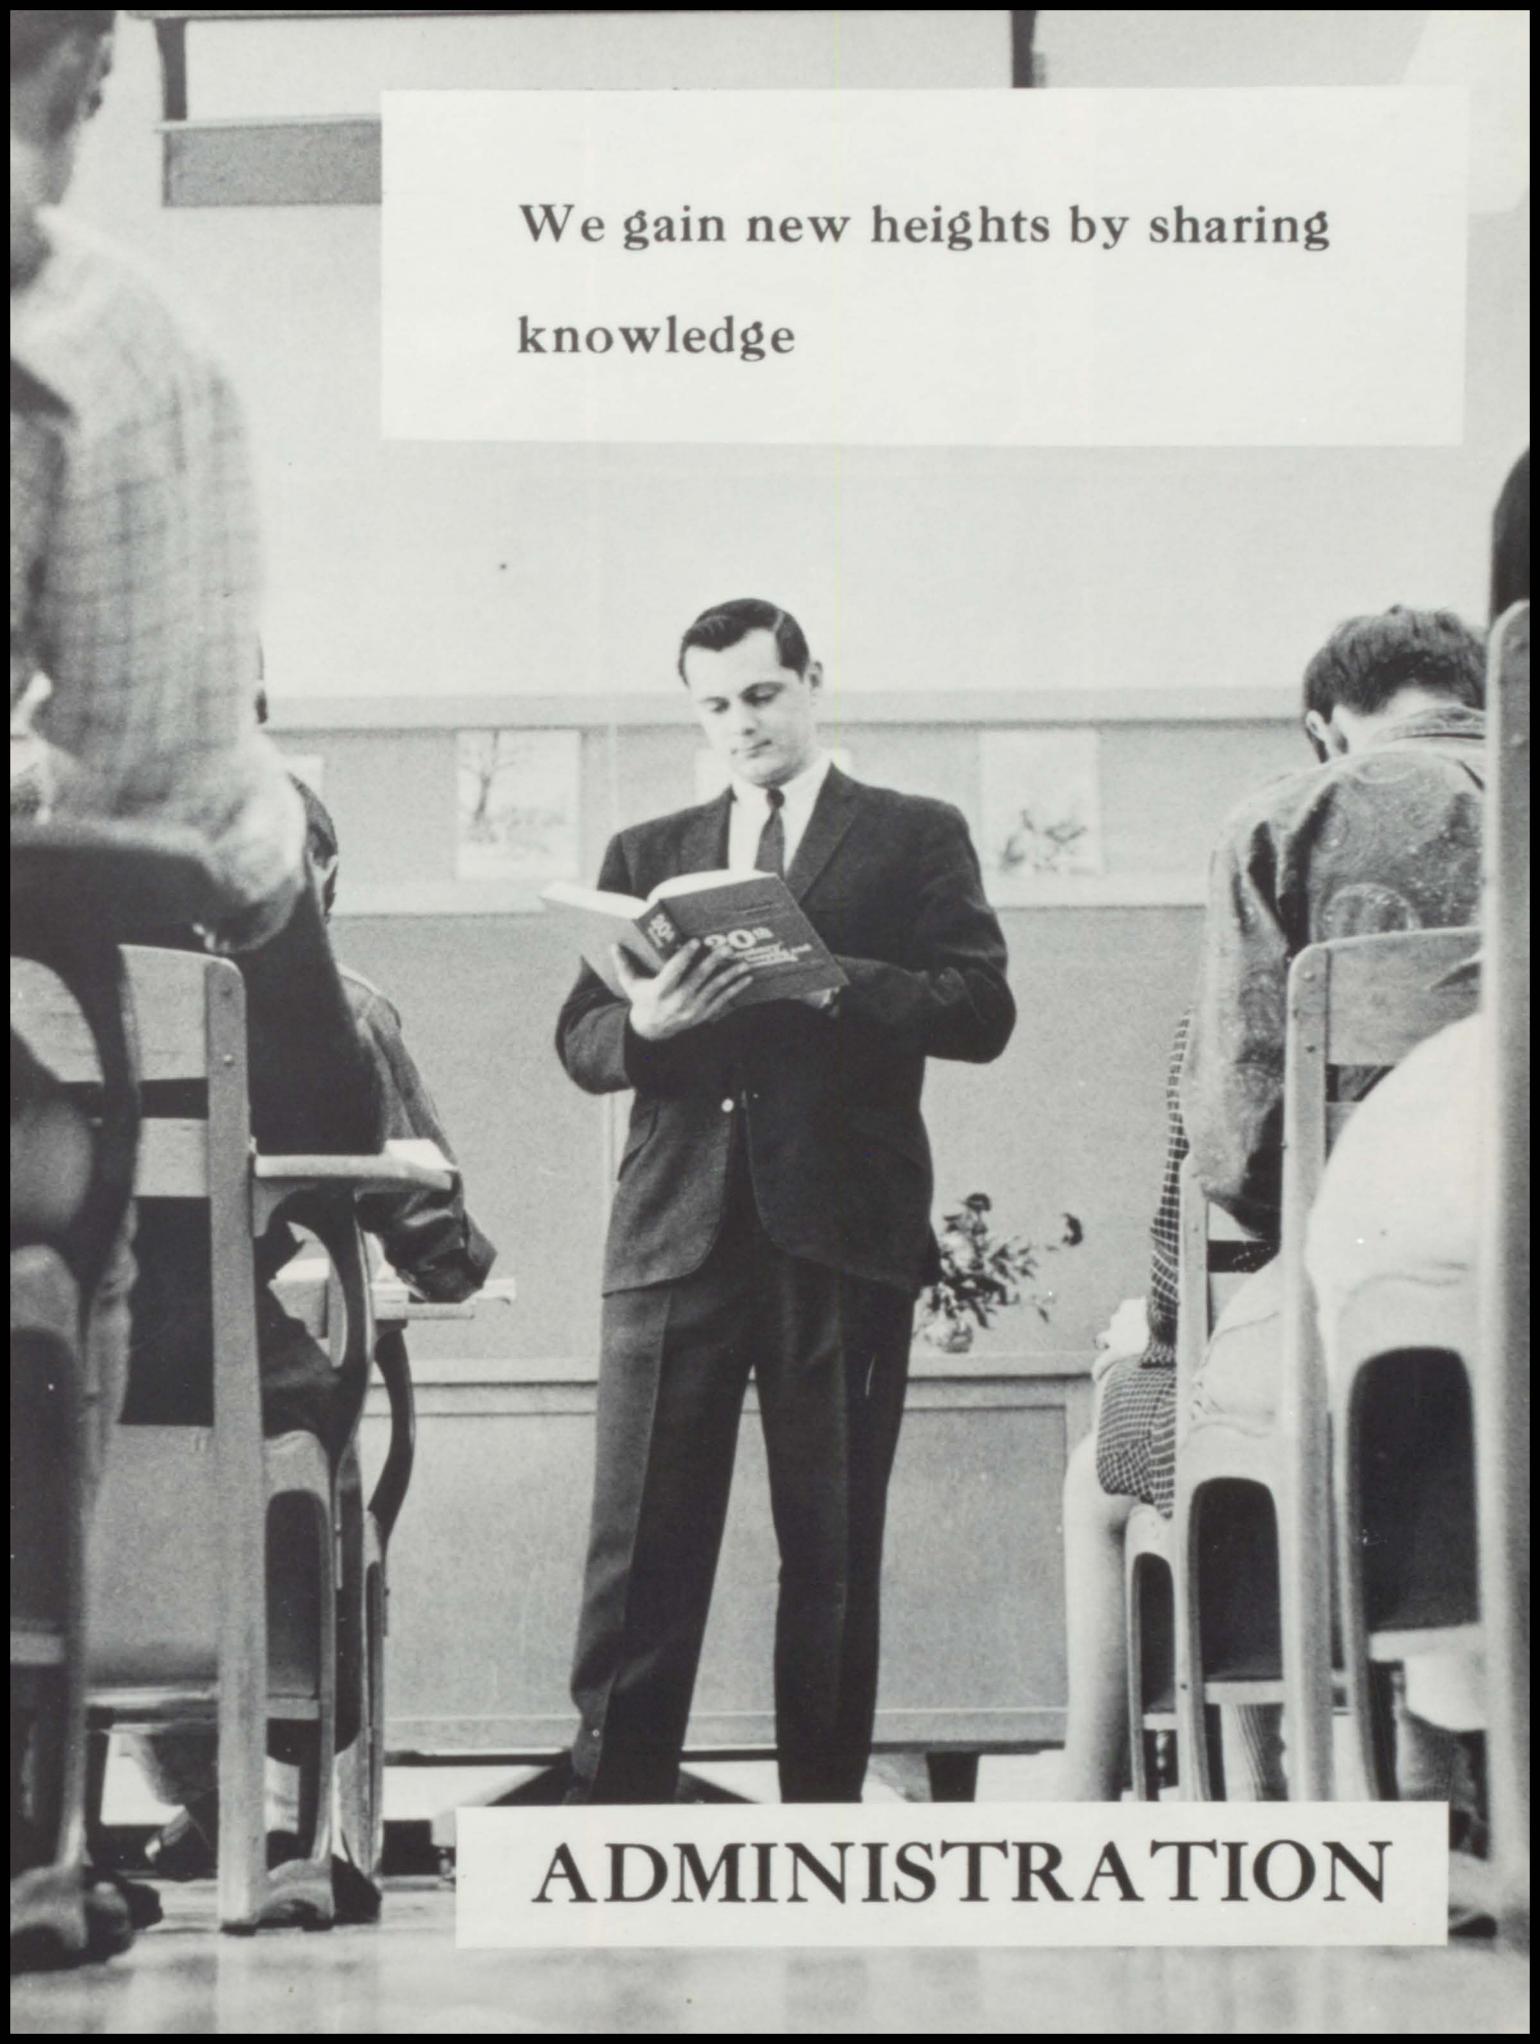

Jim Gunnare uses one of the practice rooms.

The football players spent many hours practicing on the new field.

Faculty Paves the Path for Education

The faculty is not only the most important part of the school, but it plays an important role in the community, the nation, and the world. It helps prepare the students of A.H.S. to be better citizens and leaders.

In the community, the faculty works with the PTA on many projects. Some of the teachers helped prepare a display of the Home Economics and Agriculture students' projects for one of the PTA meetings. They also had to evaluate the school as a whole, and evaluate their teaching programs for the North Central Accreditation Association.

Acting as a guide on the path to education in all areas, the faculty paves the way with knowledge, adds discipline to keep students on the right path, helps with activities to make the trip enjoyable, and leaves them lasting impressions.

Forever Forward . . .

This years governing body consisted of a boy and a girl from each class. The student Council was led by President David Kraakmo and assisted by their advisor, Mr. Dobberstein.

A great many accomplishments were made throughout the year. These representatives constructed and displayed a suggestion box so that the student body could express their ideas and make changes in the schools policies.

Action was taken on several of the suggestions. One special improvement was the addition of a flag to each room so that the pledge of allegiance would start the days activities.

The Student Council also organized and planned the Christmas party, the Homecoming and Sweetheart dances, and provided refreshments and entertainment after several home basketball games.

The Democratic Way

August of 1967 found the schoolboard evaluating the new addition. When it was finally completed, these gentlemen heaved a big sigh of relief. All of the long hours spent debating over the blueprints with the contractor were over. Some of the crowded facilities of AHS were now relieved because of the efforts of these men.

Taking part in the dedication of the new athletic field was another honor for the schoolboard. They were aided in this project by the athletic "booster-club".

Results of special elections showed that in 1968-69, Alcester would experience a big increase in the number of grade school students. Several school districts decided to reorganize and join the Alcester Independent School District. Therefore, a new and enlarged schoolboard was organized, and they also met regularly to plan the needed changes for the next school year.

Schoolboard members take care of final business matters for the 1967-68 school year.

Behind the Scenes

Mr. Larson keeps the office running smoothly, balances income and expenditures, and helps the students.

So many people are never recognized in organizations, businesses, entertainment and in education. Here at Alcester High, these people behind the scenes are necessary parts in the machine of education. Each has his specific duties but they function for one purpose, giving students the best education possible.

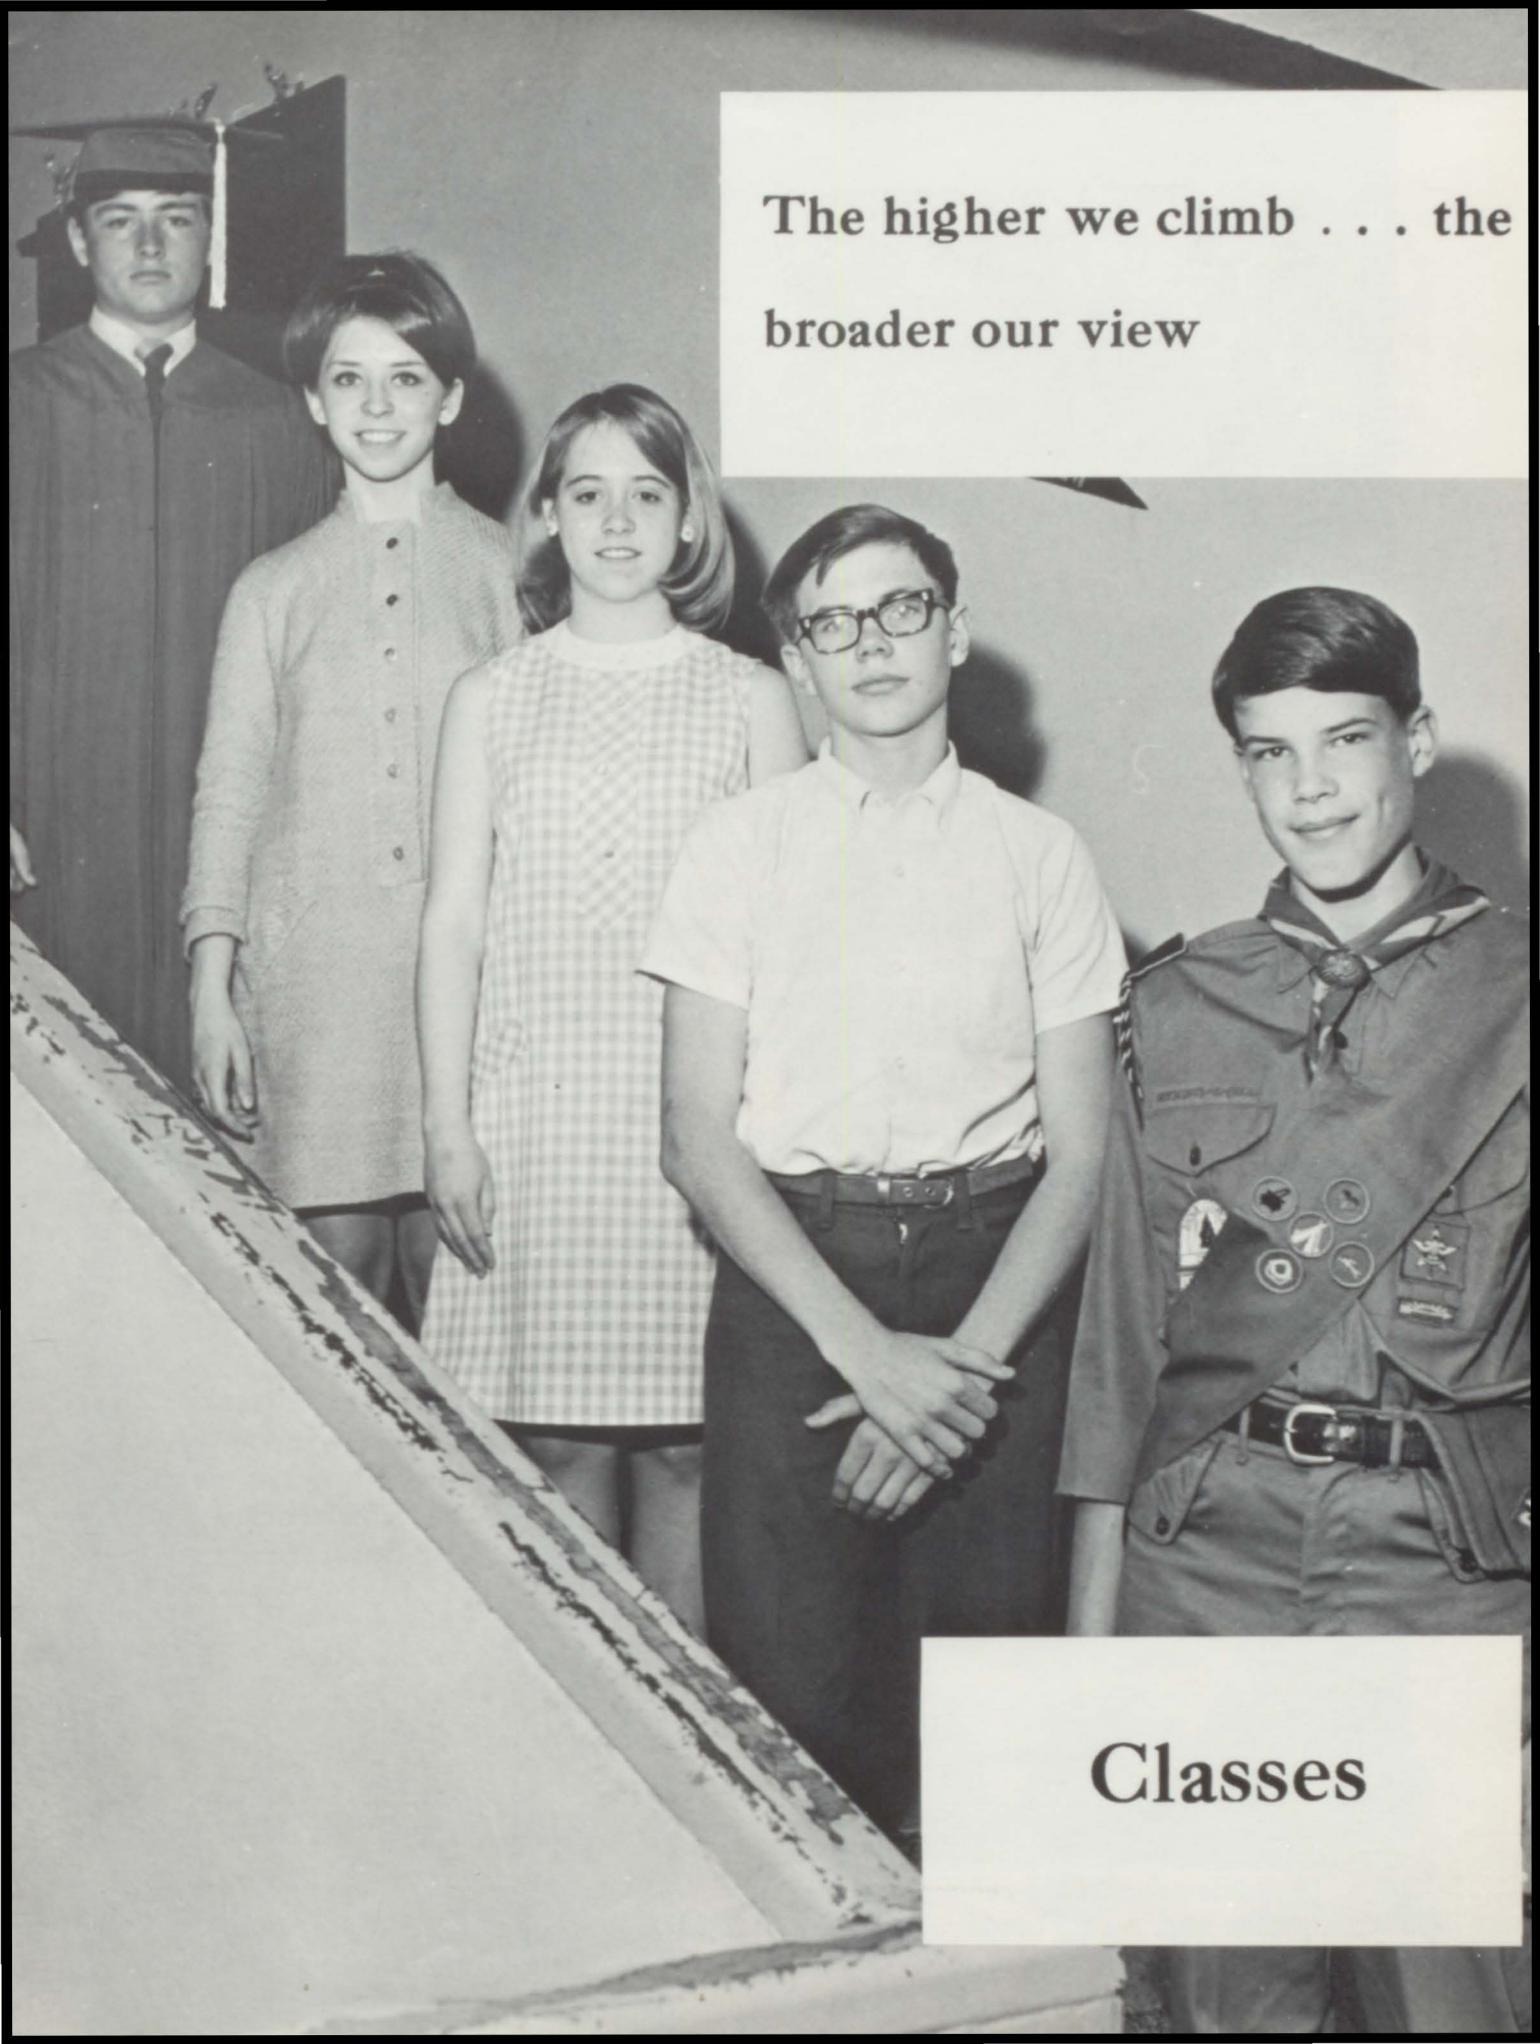

Getting the student to school on time, providing them with pleasant surroundings, serving them nutritious meals, and helping them with problems are just summaries of their many tasks. Each gives of himself for the advancement of many.

Cleaning the rooms, the halls, and the grounds are the duties of the custodians Mr. L. Anderson, and Mrs. J. Solberg.

Transportation to and from school is provided by the bus drivers J. Solbue, J. Richter and M. Jacobs, L. to R.

The cooks, Mrs. G. Numsen, Mrs. W. Sorlie, Mrs. M. Johnson, and Mrs. V. Harders (not pictured) serve the students nutritious and appetizing meals.

Year Sees Larger Junior High

Mrs. Brenneise changes a record before a junior high music class.

A pleasant change for the Junior High from their daily classes of reading, writing, and arithmetic, was music. Accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. Brenneise, the 7th and 8th grade grades harmonized to their favorite songs.

During the year they gave reports and sang in the period of 1:40 to 2:10. The highlight of the year was the Christmas program in which the Junior High joined the grades in song.

Freshmen Face a New Challenge

During first period the freshmen were in the gym for Physical Education class taught by Mr. Kroger. The girls had P.E. classes on Mondays and Wednesdays, and the boys went on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Sleepy-eyed and yawning they first had calisthenics for about ten minutes. After that, they were a little more wide awake so they participated in a variety of different sports such as basketball, kickball, soccer, tennis, and softball, as well as tumbling. These activities made them wide awake before it was time to get ready to go to their next class.

The things they learned and the exercise it provided, P.E. class was worth the extra effort to the "frosch".

Sophomores Study the "Science of Life"

If you would have happened to be passing by the Science room at 10:27 or 12:50, you may have seen the sophomore Biology class at work. The major part of the year was spent studying the textbook. The area enjoyed most was dissecting. With razor blades and pins in hand, each student tackled many different types of specimens. The other projects completed during the year were leaf booklets, semester reports, and the Science Fair projects. Before the year ended, every student in the sophomore class realized what a challenge the "Science of Life" is.

Junior English — a Path to Learning

The juniors at A.H.S. were divided into two English classes, one under the guidance of Mrs. E. Aaen, and one under Mrs. H. Lappegaard. They spent most of the first semester studying American Literature. Writing some themes, including the REA Cooperative theme, and studying the many parts of grammar, filled the second semester's schedule. The added bright spots to the routine were the oral book reports given three times during the year. Learning about the many areas of English equaled the time the juniors put in studying.

The first section of English III salutes the flag as the class period begins.

Jobs, Dates, Parties Fill Senior Social Life

Forty-eight students graduated as the Class of 1968. With diploma in hand, each senior looked back on his last high school year with many feelings.

The senior's year was filled with activities: editing the "Dakota" and Cubette, presenting "Death Takes a Holiday" and one-act plays, supporting the music department, attending a memorable Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom, breaking records in athletics, learning preparation for the future in FFA and FHA, going to parties after games, traveling to Omaha, for Skip Day, leading the school in spirit, and having lots of fun.

ACTIVITIES

F.H.A.-F.F.A. Help Strengthen

One of the first purposes of FHA is to promote a growing appreciation of the joys and satisfactions of homemaking.

The Alcester chapter of Future Homemakers of America met the third Thursday of every month with Mrs. Ericson as chapter advisor. The program of work carried out by the local chapter was based on the goals and projects established by the state and national organizations.

The FHA members enjoyed a penny carnival, Daddy Date Night, the eighth-grade tea, the Mother-Daughter Banquet, the Fashion Revue for the PTA, and the FHA Convention in Huron, which were the highlights of the year.

D. Johnson, N. Hendricks, D. Johnson, L. Ludwig, and J. Danielson enjoy their appetizers at the State FHA Convention.

Community Relations

The Future Farmers of America deals with more than just farming. They believe in helping America by strengthening local levels, the community and school, to function as one. The Alcester Chapter of the FFA sponsored many programs stressing this phase of the organization. "Pheasants Unlimited" and the Safety Checks were two of these programs. The FFA also helped put on a program of the boys shop projects for the PTA.

For some, FFA was to be remembered at special times like the Father-Son Banquet, the State Convention at Brookings, and the National Convention in Kansas City which Gary Scott, Dan Nelson, and David Anderson attended.

Cubette Staff Records Year's People

Mary Hendricks attended Journalism school in Brookings to prepare herself for her job as editor of the 1968 annual. Charlotte Stoen also attended Journalism school and learned tips on layouts and copy. Other members of the staff attended a workshop in Brookings as well as a one-day workshop in Sioux Falls where they learned a lot and gained many useful ideas.

Editor Mary shows exhaustion after long hours of working on the annual.

Staff members, under the supervision of Mr. Thomas, worked hard throughout the year planning the layouts, writing copy, typing, getting pictures, and pasting. Their job was to make the 1968 Cubette a memorable story of what went on at A.H.S. over the year.

Dakota Catches News Scene

"Will we ever get the paper out by Friday?" and "How can this story fit in such little space?" are two of the favorite lines quoted by Barbara Wahl and JoAnn Thormodsgaard, co-editors of the Dakota. Each month the school paper was edited to give the businesses, alumni, and the students a summary of what went on and what is scheduled during the month.

The other feature editors, typists and reporters aided in the production. Mr. Ptak supervised and provided helpful points throughout the year.

At times the deadline was not made and the stories had to be cut, and this made the Dakota staff strive for improvement.

Art editor Debbie Johnson cuts another stencil for the Dakota.

Pep Club Earns Money for Bleachers

"Beat 'em, beat 'em, let's defeat 'em, go Cubs go!" This was a favorite yell chanted by the Pep Club at many games this year. After a saddening football season, it took a few games for the 72 members of the Pep Club to regain the spirit deserved by the basketball team. Once the spirit came back, the girls proudly cheered the Cubs to one of their greatest seasons in recent years.

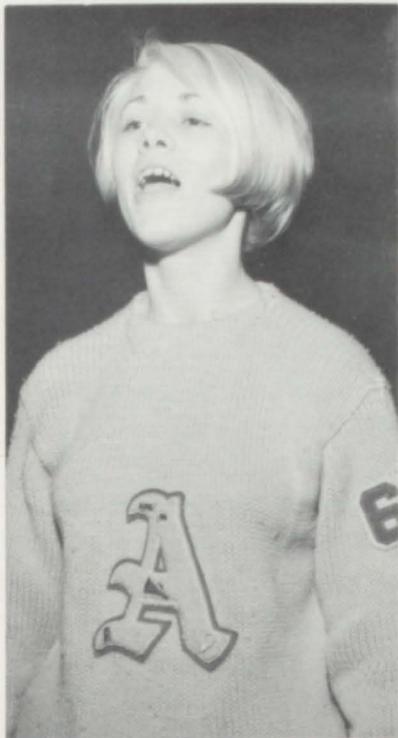

The officers, Karen Sommervold, president; Mary Ellen Hendricks, vice president; Laurie Ludwig, secretary; and Darlene Johnson, treasurer; along with their advisor, Mr. Olsen, presided at the meetings.

The Pep Club achieved many goals such as earning money to buy bleachers for the football field, operating coat check at home basketball games, and cheering loudly.

A.H.S. Boasts Boy Cheerleader

Linette Carlson

Supporting the football and basketball team by leading the students in cheers at games, and planning pep rallies to create school spirit and enthusiasm were the main responsibilities of the cheerleaders.

The cheerleaders spent a lot of long hours practicing and planning pep rallies. They also held extra pep club meetings to help the pep club members learn their cheers to support the team.

The excitement of cheering at games and supporting the team and school in victory or defeat was their reward and made all their long hours of practice worth while.

Library Acquires New Addition

Doug Fickbohm thinks new study cubicles are a pretty good idea.

"There is no frigate like a book, to take us lands away." This quotation explains the major use of the library at A.H.S. The students use it to explore other areas, transport them into make-believe, find answers to problems, and just enjoy the valuable information found in the library. The periodicals were regularly used by the students to check on current information and world news.

The library was increased in size this year and a special study table was added. Many new books were also added. In order to keep the books in good condition and in correct order, Mrs. Aaen and eleven students worked as librarians.

Under the direction of Mrs. Aen and Mrs. Lappegaard, 24 students participated in declam. As one walked down the halls, voices could be heard from various rooms as the students practiced expression, pronunciation, and speech interpretation in preparation for the local contest held on October 24. Those who won the local contest and represented A.H.S. in the district contest were: Lazanne Wetrosky, oratory; Paulette Johnson, poetry; Joyce Fickbohm, humorous; Sherry Hagen, dramatics.

Band Swings at "Pops" Concert

The 1967-68 schoolyear was a busy one for the fifty band members. They played at the home football and basketball games, and presented a half time show at the Homecoming game.

With the end of the football season, concert band began. The winter concert was presented in January, and in May the band gave a "pops concert". Some of the songs they played were "Carmen", "Dry Bones", and "I've Got Rhythm".

On March 30th, the A band competed in the regional music contest at Yankton. Hard work paid off as the band received a superior rating for the second consecutive year.

To close out the year, the band took part in Memorial Day services.

Larger Chorus Makes More Music

"I need a little more tenor", was on of the lines quoted by Mr. Olsen as the 75-voice chorus prepared for its performances.

At the beginning of the year, the chorus was hard at work preparing for the winter concert.

March 30th, at the regional contest, the chorus received a II rating. After contest work was started and songs improved for the spring concert in May. The climatic ending of this concert was a band-chorus presentation of "Man and His World", the theme-song of the New York World's Fair. The chorus was well received, and felt rewarded for the many hours of work during the year.

Glee Adds a Musical Note

Sixty girls joined forces seventh period on Mondays and Thursdays to produce the sweet sounds of the girls glee club.

During the year, the girls performed at both the winter and spring concerts singing popular hits from shows such as "Dr. Zhivago", current songs like "Sunny" and "Look of Love", and "Sing Gloria", one of the religious numbers. In late March, the glee club competed in the Region I music contest, and they received a number II rating.

Reigning Under the Rainbow

A brightly colored rainbow after a fresh rain was the setting for the 1967 Homecoming Coronation on September 21. The double quartet set the mood by singing "Somewhere Over the Rainbow", as the royalty proceeded to the stage.

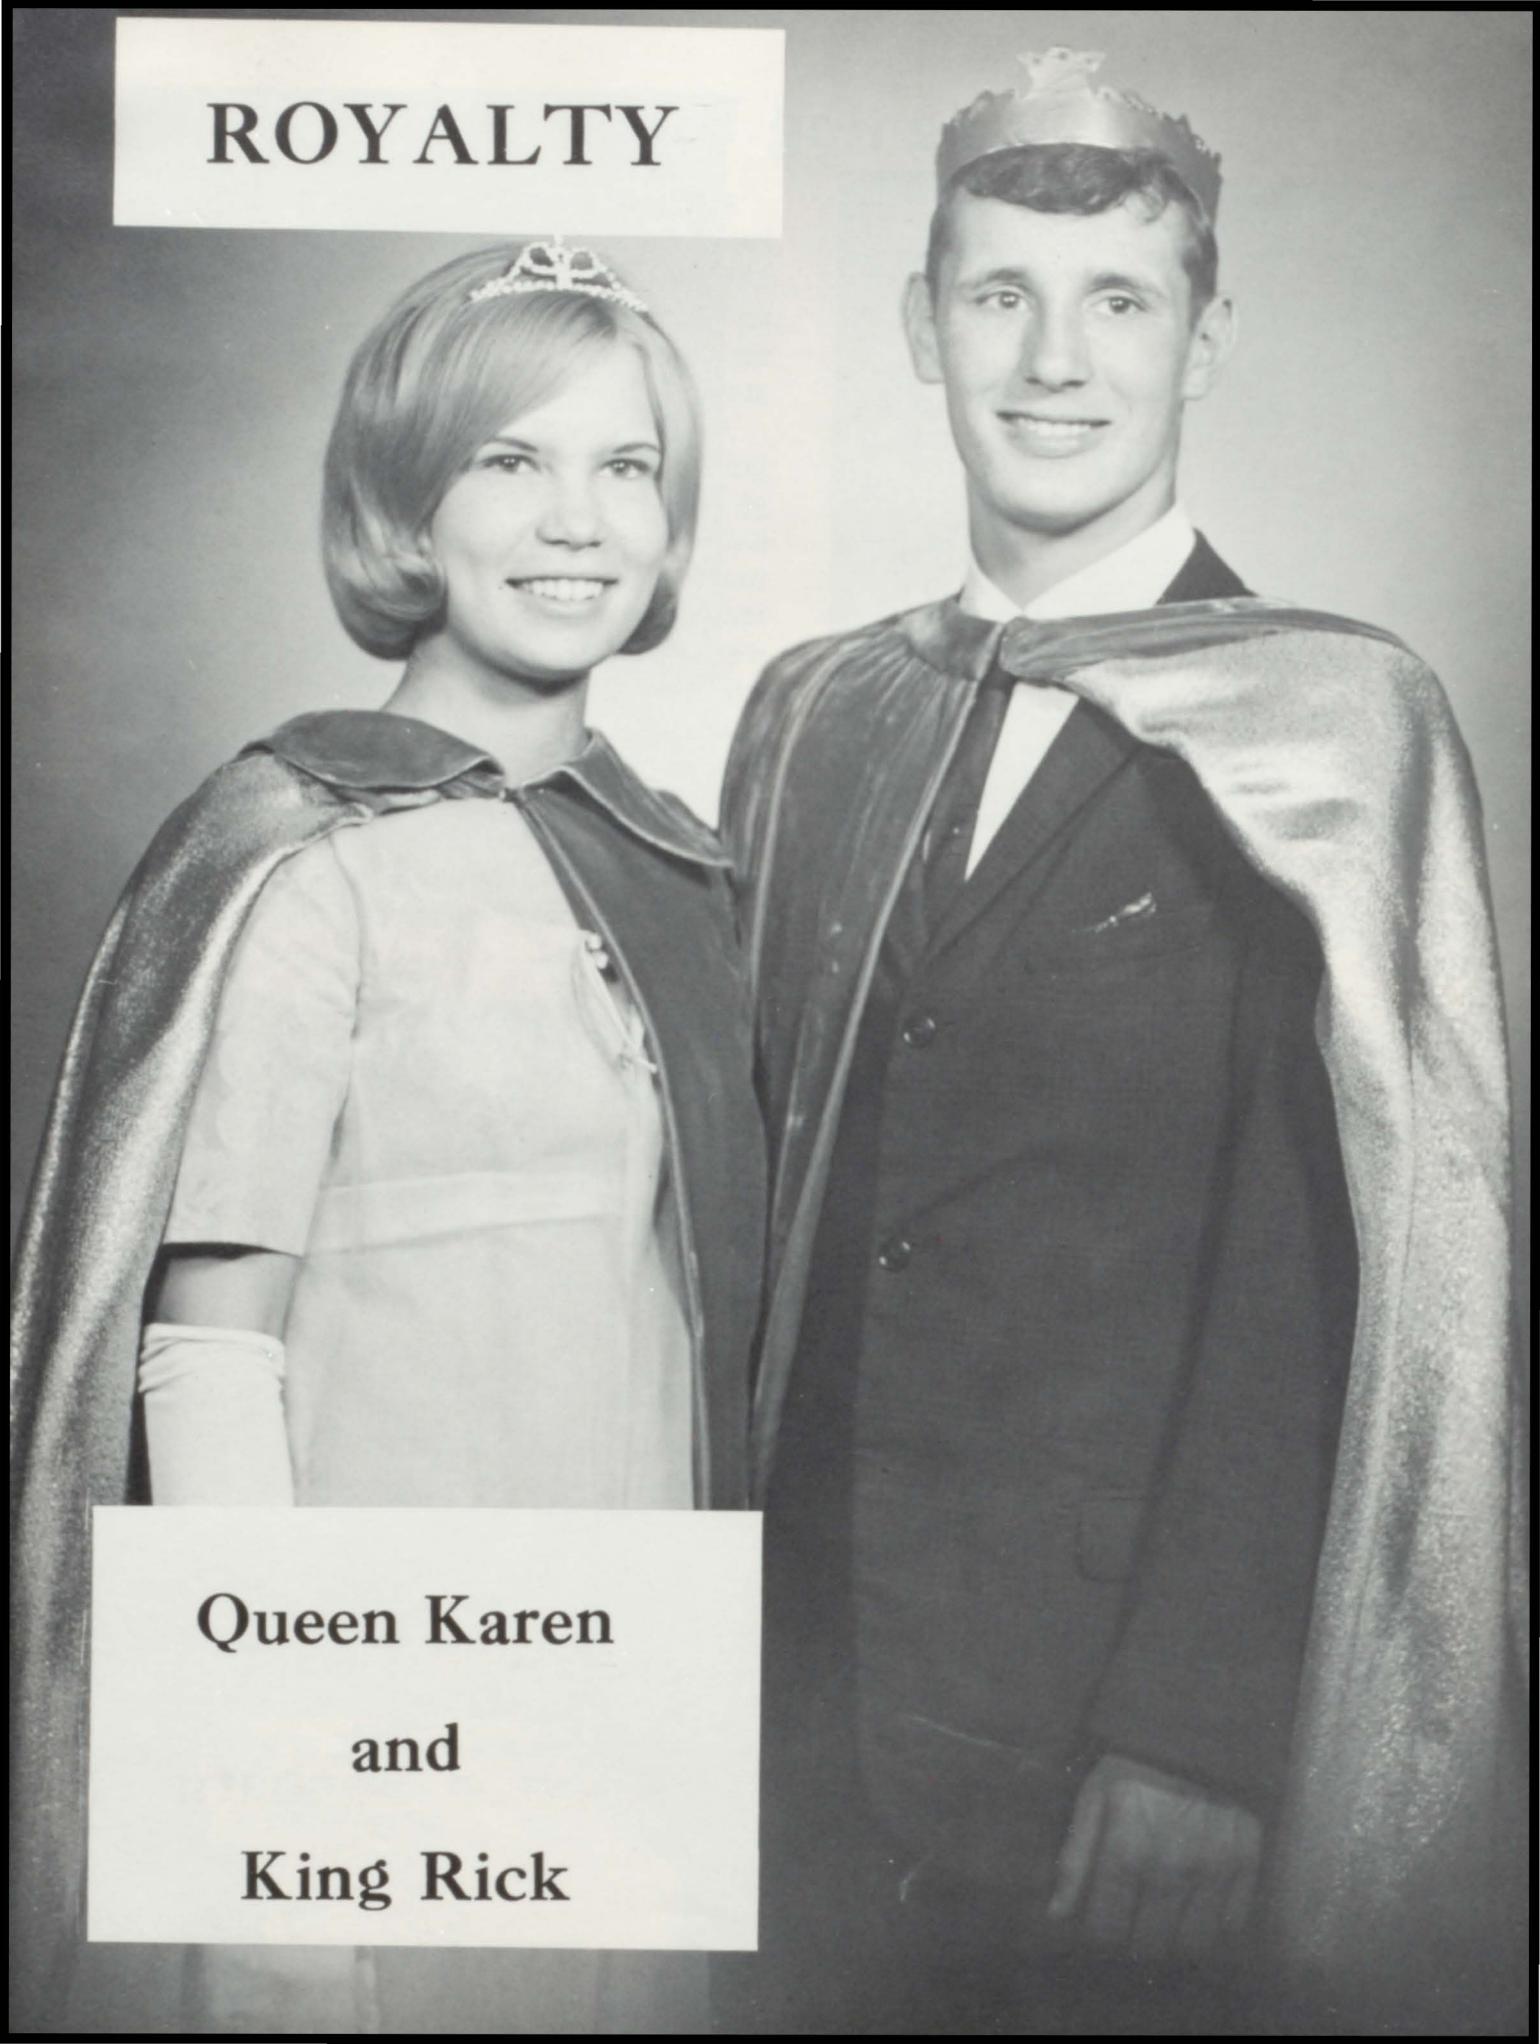

As the crowd waited, Debbie Johnson and James St. Pierre took from the pots of gold at the end of the rainbow, the names of our homecoming king and queen. Tom Nilson, master of ceremonies, revealed to the audience that Karen Sommervold and Rick Riherd were our queen and king. After Karen and Rick were crowned and robed, each of the four classes presented entertainment in their honor.

An enthusiastic pep rally on Thursday inspired spirit for the game held on Friday evening. Following the game, a dance with music by "The Trippers" ended our 1967 Homecoming festivities.

Reflect Their Happy Honor

On February 10, 1968, Barbara Wahl was chosen A.H.S. Sweetheart Queen by the student body. The voting procedures were different from other years. The student body voted for one girl in the senior class and then voted for one out of the five girls with the highest number of votes. These five girls (pictured) took part in the processional played by Charlotte Stoen. The decorations, made by the Home Economics III class, set the theme of "A Key to My Heart". Grant Doty, master of ceremonies, presented the program, the "Tomorrow Night Show" to the queen and her court. The "Four Sax" was one highlight of the program consisting of both vocal and instrumental numbers.

Following the program the "Trippers" played music for the Sweetheart Ball.

“Love is Blue” Provides Romantic Setting for Prom

When the Junior-Senior Banquet was held this was on May 11, 1968-many were fascinated with the romantic park setting. A walk through the park displayed a bubbling fountain, a lover's swing, dainty butterflies, and beautiful flowers. The delicious dinner served and the enjoyable program introduced by La-Zanne Wetrosky, Mistress of Ceremonies, made it a night to remember. As guest speaker, Mr. Gustad put aside all fantasies with a serious note of advice.

To follow tradition a prom, a movie, and early morning breakfast was held by the Junior parents.

Steve Groon and Debbie Belkey smile as they take advantage of the inviting swing.

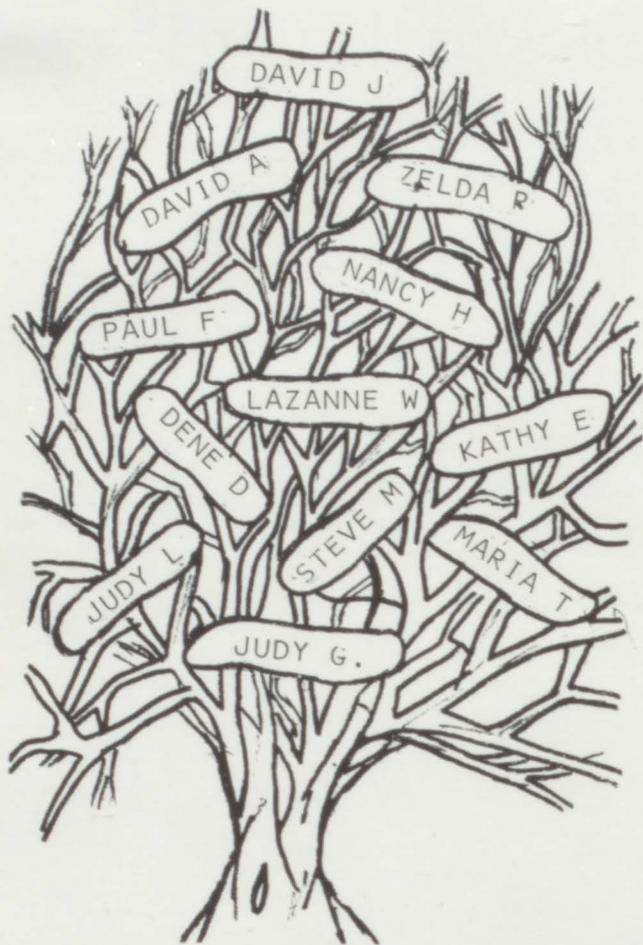

Some juniors and seniors keep the conversation interesting before the meal is served.

A garden scene with a water fountain is admired by Judy Larson, Debbie Jervik, Nancy Hultgren, and Eunice Peterson, L. to R.

Memories are kept by pictures, and these girls insure themselves memories of the beautiful prom.

Hildegard finally leaves with Freddy to the Junior-Senior Prom.

Juniors Perform "We Shook the Family Tree"

The junior class of 1969 took another step as upperclassmen when they presented their play, "We Shook the Family Tree". The play directed by Mrs. Aaen was put on November 16th and 17th.

The story showed Hildegard, tired of being a wallflower, trying desperately to attract a boy as her date for the senior prom. To attract attention, she won the school debate with an ardent, dramatic plea against drinking, but only succeeded in convincing everyone that her father was an alcoholic. Hildegard's mother interfered and got an undesirable date for her daughter with a boy who wore short pants. Her date finally won approval by taking drastic action to get long pants.

Twelve students were in the cast, and other members of the class helped in the production of the play. This will be one more of the class's memories of their junior years at A.H.S.

Boys Have Leading Roles in Senior Play

Grant acts as Barb's lover.

A dramatical mystery, "Death Takes a Holiday" was presented by thirteen seniors under the direction of Mrs. Lappegaard, April 5th and 6th.

Death, while at the Duke's home, becomes human to experience some of their emotions. During his three day stay, he falls in love with three women. Two of them automatically turn their love to fear, as the other guests do, when they find out he is really death. Gracia, the third love, only loves him more because she has known he was death. Because of her love, she decides to leave with him.

The cast included Grant Doty, Barb Wahl, Martin Buum, Paulette Johnson, Gloria Peterson, Inez Siemers, Dennis Turner, Mary Hendricks, James St. Pierre, Vance Keiser, Mike Pederson, Sherry Hagen, and Delmer Fickbohm.

Many other seniors helped with direction, stage property, publicity, and make-up, in order to make the play a better presentation.

For their athletic ability in football, Rick Riherd and Dave Kraakmo receive the Bob Johnson Award.

Inez Siemers, who contributed much to music during high school, is presented the Hammitt Music Plaque.

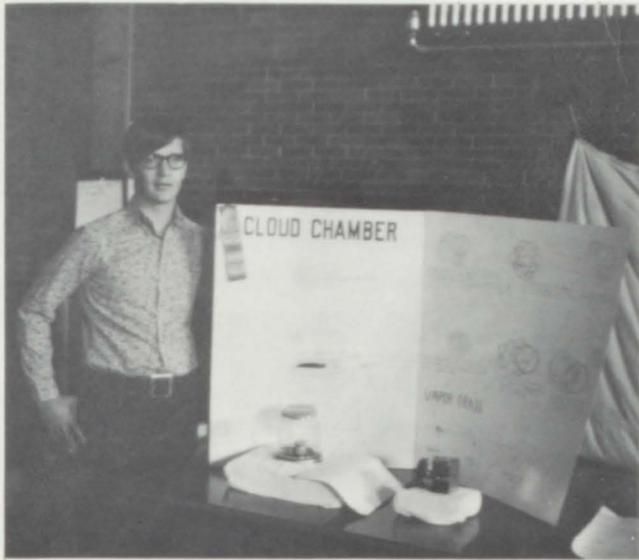

Honors Given to Deserving Students

Dan Nelson, President of FFA, receives the Delmer Scott Memorial.

Alcester was well represented this year at Girls and Boys State by L. to R. Carol Westin, Kathy Edson, Steve Merrik and David Anderson, respectively.

Because of her abilities and qualities, Margaret Eidsness is presented the Minnie Larson Award.

A-Club Completes Projects

The big yellow "A" this year found on our lettermen's jackets probably represented the athletic, ambitious, and admirable qualities found in our boys. This year, instead of starting new projects, the A-Club decided to finish the other projects, such as the new football field, the glass backboards, and getting extra equipment.

To earn a letter one must have excelled in one sport for that season and have fulfilled the requirements of the sport. Letters are given in every sport and a manager also receives a gold letter.

The new members of A-Club this year are: Martin Boom, Dave Harmon, Alan Trudeau, Dave Anderson, Don Jervik, Dave Carlson, Kerwin Lykken, Murray Mollet, Dean Witt, Calvin Reppe, Dave Peterson, and Steve Nelson.

In order to receive a blue letter, one must letter in one sport for 4 years, be captain of the team, or be elected to an All-Conference team.

All members in the A-Club work hard to receive a letter which they proudly wear.

The Cubs Gain Some Promising Freshmen

The Alcester Cubs' offense was better than the years before and they moved the ball in the air more often.

The Beresford, Parker, and Brandon Valley games proved to be the most impressive ones throughout the season. The on-side kick proved to be one of the Cubs' most successful weapons.

Rick Riherd made Ace of the Week for making three touchdowns and sixteen tackles in the Beresford game. Rick Riherd and Dave Kraakmo made All Conference, and James St. Pierre and Martin Buum made honorable mention. Outstanding defensive players for the year were Dave Kraakmo, Rick Riherd, James St. Pierre, and Lee Briggie.

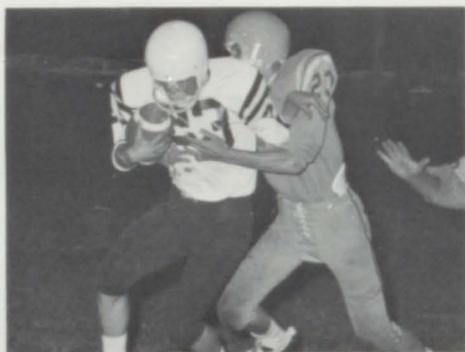

The new athletic field encouraged spirit in the fans, made the players work a little harder for victory, and brought a special pride to the community.

Next year the coach will be depending on some promising freshmen. These boys and other underclassmen will help give the Cubs hope for a victory next year.

Beating Beresford in four overtimes was a great lift for the Cubs this year. The Cubs had an 11 and 1 record until they lost 6 games when the highly rated Parker Pheasants defeated the Cubs. The Cubs had one of their best seasons and compiled a record of 16 wins and 6 losses. This record was brought about by a shooting percentage of 43% from the field and 67% from the free-throw line.

With a lot of hard work and determination, the Cubs took Consolation in District Twenty Tournaments, and were also rated in the Class "B" Poll throughout the season.

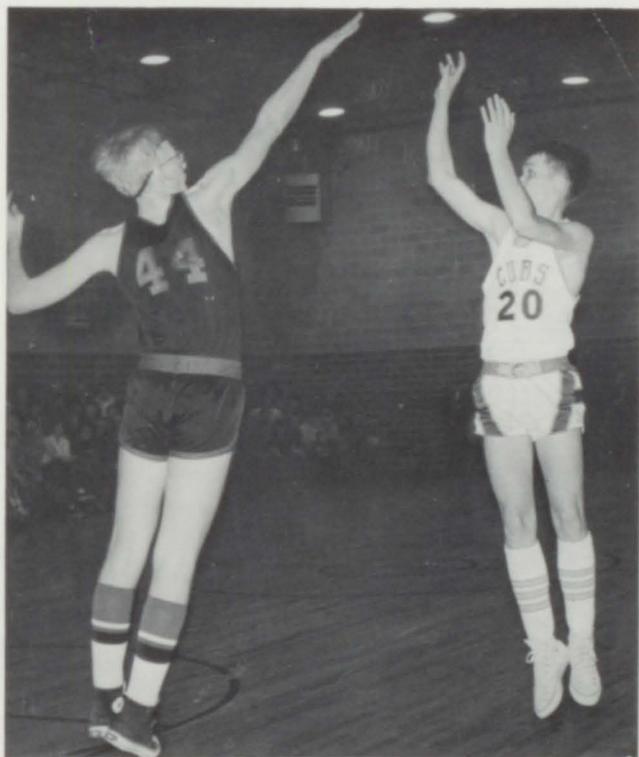

This years honors were: All Conference to James St. Pierre, Martin Buum, and Rick Riherd. Free throw champion was James St. Pierre, and Martin Buum was voted leading rebounder. James St. Pierre also received Ace of the Week. Next year Mr. Kroger will be rebuilding with three returning juniors.

The loss of all the juniors and sophomores of the 66-67 basketball team was evident in this year's B-Team. The lack of experience proved to be the deciding factor for the season. The freshmen and sophomores finished the season with a 4-15 record this year. Mr. Gustad was quoted as saying "It wasn't such an outstanding year, but a progressive one." Next season the team will have a promising year with several returning freshmen, to give them the experience needed.

Alcester Holds First Invitational

The finishing of the new track was a big boost for the track team, and with it came many promising runners. This year, several records were broken by varsity and freshmen. A relay team composed of Rick Riherd, Tom Nilson, Lynn Numsen, and James St. Pierre set a record in the two-mile relay with a time of 8:43.8. Rick Riherd broke the 440 yard dash with a time of 53.4 seconds, and represented Alcester at the state track meet.

In freshmen events Don Jervik ran 11 flat and set a new freshman 100 record. The freshmen 440 yard relay team broke the old record with the time of 51. Don Jervik, Steve Nelson, Gary McKellips, and Dave Peterson ran for the freshmen.

Because of the new track, Alcester held its first Invitational with five schools participating. Alcester placed fourth.

Mr. Kroger will be looking forward to a good year with many returning lettermen.

Seniors Face a New Challenge — A Step to Reality

Graduation, a time of reflection, foresight, gifts; memories, tears, relief, and pride. This time is memorable to all forty-seven seniors, for now they step into a world that is far from perfect.

Their job is to try and undo the problems formed before them and accept and work to solve the problems heading their way in the future. The majority of these problems being war, poverty, racism, education, society, crime, and a feeling of unrest. To help them in their struggle, memories of high school will come to mind and ideas formed there will be remembered. But the world with its ugly side still revolves and people soon face reality.

Will their education have prepared them to meet the challenge? Will they be successful?

Salutatorian Inez Siemers gives her address on opportunities.

Barbara Wahl, Valedictorian, speaks on the motto of the senior class.

Adding humor, yet bringing out a strong point about security, Mr. D. Futrell of Nettleton Business College, speaks to the graduating seniors.

Many will climb this stairway at A.H.S. in years to come, but as the year of 1967-1968 comes to an end, the students reluctantly take their last few steps, knowing the events of that year can only be memories to them in the future. With the appreciated help of many, the CUBETTE staff has captured those memories for you to relive in the 1968 CUBETTE.
